WASHINGTON, D. C., OCTORDO 9, 1860.

of the report of the impority of the | perity of the American people," committee, the minority publishes its belief that the majority will acquit the Commissioner of the charges that have been made spainst him.

The principal objection of the miposity to Commissioner Raum soums to be the universal refelerator objection. and the logic of this objection appears to run in about this way. Har wile Commissioner of Pensions; he owns stock-In and by the president of a company known as the Universal Refrigerator Company: he will not disclose the names of the stockholders of that company; therefore he is a bad man and has been unfatthful and derellet in the discharge of his official duties. This position is enforced by recital of the fact that the General's private secrotory is owner of stock in a subsidiary refrigerator company, in payment of which stock he rendered services instend of paying cash. It is admitted that the young man wanted this stock and is glad be has it-has made no complaint and has asked nobody to make complaint for him. But it is said the young man ought to be dissatisfied, and has been promoted, which assertion and fact taken together clearly show that RAUN has been derellet in official duty.

The minority also complains that the majority refused to investigate the refrigerator machine and ascertain whether it would do all that it was advertised to do. The implication of this objection is that if the machine is not a good one, RAUS is an incompetent and unfaithful Commissioner, but if it is all that it is said to be then Rxc a is an unebjectionable Commissioner completed files were called foto existence for the purpose of advancing the pension claims controlled by Lamon, the pension agent, and that the consideration received by Excit from LERION for this favor was the lodersement by Leston of a note made by RAUM for $25,000. But the evidence taken shows clearly that LEMON was not benefited by the action of Commissioner RAUM establishing these files, and that fewer of Lemon's cases have been expedited by RAUM than were expedited by General BLACK, who, it is admitted, was careful to show no improper expediting favors. The evidence shows also that all pension claims attorneys have equal chances on the completed files; that Hamilton had allowed her while than this, that the establishment of the completed files system has been in the interest of pension cialmants, and has resulted in the adjudication of thousands of claims that had been "hung up" in the office, many of them being claims that should have been disposed of years ago.

Notwithstanding this report of the introvity of the Raum committee, we maintain still that the charges against the Commissioner have not been sustained by the evidence.

WHAT THE ALLIANCE ORGAN SAYS.

The National Economist, official organ of "The National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union," in its issue now current, has something to say on sev-

1. That it necessarily involves were

In reply to the first objection at ded. the Economist says that the warehousing and banking idea is only a suggested method, non essential to the suc sees of the scheme, which seems to be a great concession by the Alilance people | feature in the economics of transporta-

The reply of the second objection is to the point. "The constitutional question," says the Economist, "Is the only one involving any principle that the opponents have been able to bring forward in the whole nine months' discussion of the measure, and Senator VANCE comes out boldly and rests his whole case on that question.

The challenge to a discussion of the constitutionality of the proposed measure its friends will accept gladly. If it is not constitutional they do not want it enacted into law. This the Roonomist states with much emphasis, and in a triumphant manner says that the question of the constitutionality of the scheme has been decided affirmatively by the Supreme Court to its opinion on the right of the Givern ment to loan money. (U. S. Reports, S.

C. 94, Osto IV., page 500) In an article on "Cheap Money." the Economist says that it is but fair to assome that the McErning bill does not protect the manufacturer, but the assurer-does not bring better wages to the inboter, but does bring higher in terest to the money-lender. "In view of this," adds the Economist, "would it not be well for the friends of tariff reform to begin at the next session of Congress with a bill to reform the oursency and give the people cheaper money? RAUM CONDEMNED

MINORITY REPORT OF THE INVESTI-GATING COMMITTEE GIVEN OUT.

It reverely Cravares the Commissioner for His Relations to the Betrigerstor. Company and Pension Attorney Lemon,

The minutely report of the Raum special investigating committee has been given out for publication. In reand to the first charge, the sale of refrigerator stock to the employes to the Pension Office, the report comments upon the refusal of the Commissioner to produce the books and papers of the company notwithstanding repeated efforts to secure them. It appears from Mr. Smyser's testlmony, the report says, that other persons not named owned stock, irrespective of the sweeping as surmore of the Commissioner that the lists he produced contained the names of all the stockholders.

also says that the investigation procoled until near its close without re-esting the fact that a subsidiary corpo-ation bud been organized by General Roum, Bradley Tanner and five other persons not named, which was to do business under the present company's patent, and differed from it only in name. Both the Commissioner and Bradiey Tanner had repeatedly stated before the committee that no employe of the Pension Office owned directly of lirectly any stock in the Universal Refrigerator Company, and the exist-ence of the Columbia Universal Regerating Company (the sub company) was unknown to the minority until al-most at the close of the investigation.

Continuing the report refers to the refusal of the unjointy to investigate the character of the refrigerator patents notwithstanding the fact that comperent witnesses were present to testify that the history of the enterprise was full of crookedness; that the scheme was impracticable and worthless, and that Tanner was a stockholder. It is also asked whether it is not reasonable to suppose that General Raum's official position enabled him to make the deal by which a member of Congress was induced to a member of Congress was induced to purchase $20,000 worth of stock.

The report then refers to the second charge—the advancement of pension claims for a certain attorney, in consid-eration of his becoming surety on the Commissioner's note for $25,000. It also refers to the evidence touching also refers to the Mr. Lemon's letter, suggesting time-diste adjudication of completed pension cases; to Deputy Commissioner Lincoln's adverse report and that of Chief Bryant, which it says clearly defines the objection to the "completed files" system, and were made while there existed neither interest nor feeling to bias the judgment of shado the testi nony. The report refers to the com-January 6 last, and that, on the following day, Lemon became the surety for Commissioner Raum for $12,000.

The report concludes as follows: Thus it seems to us that the Commis sloner of Pensions has not properly externed the delicate duties and seriou responsibilities of his great office; nor has be measured up to that high s'and-ard of patriotic consideration for the public which should prevail in this De-partment, adjudicating the disbursaments of nearly one third of the entire revenues of the Government. The Peusion Office is altogether too sacred a piace for the development of the personal thrift and enterprise manifested in this record. It was established that the nation might properly care for those to whom it owes a gratifude too sacred for triding. It is a monument to the munificence of a grateful people, and its hundrests of employes should be ministers of mercy, not stock gamblers. That a place thus ballowed should have ion, converted into a spawning place ng doubtful patents, is a reflection upor Government, a degradation of the ablic service which we think cannot too strongly condemned.

The majority report will not be sub-nitted until the close of the investigation at the next session of Congress.

AMUSEMENTS.

Druggists at the Opera. De Wolf Hopper had an appreciative udience last night, and his songs and wittleisms were never more heartily encored than by the members of the Na cored than by the members of the National Wholesale Druggists' Association, who were present last night in a body. The comedian was at his best, and did not deal out his humor in homeopathic doses at retail. He had an audience of wholesalers, and his performance was of the same liberal character. His paredy on "Bid Me Good bye and Go" scored a success, and the audience wa loath to let him leave the stage. Hand some souvenir programmes printed or satin were distributed.

A Great Stock Company. The New York Lyceum Theatre Stock Company, which is at the National Theatre next week, is the pet project of all of Manager Daniel Frohman's many enterprises. When that gentleman severed his connection with the Madison Square Theatre about four years ago he determined to call into ex-Istence a stock company which should bear favorable comparison with any New York had yet seen. Managers Palmer and Daly had each to their chosen line tolled for many seaons to achieve the admirable position hen occupied by their organizations But Manager Frohman, by careful fore thought and preparation in one season rought his company and the Lyceum Theatre into a prominence equal to the best. His first production was "The Wife," which ran the first season out. Wife," which ran the first season out. The second season saw the production of 'Sweet Lavender," which this company played in this city last fail.
